Is your Research Committee listening to the needs of early-career academics?»

The Network for Early Career Teachers Academics and Researchers, NECTAR, has been invited to present on issues faced by early-career academics at two ANU College Research Committees, CAP and CHM. We are collaborating with the early- and mid-career representatives on these committees to deliver these presentations. We invite all EMCR representatives from all committees associated with the university to get in touch with NECTAR and book in your turn to present these issues with us.

Check on NECTAR website if your Academic College has an early- or mid-career representative in NECTAR.
