NECTAR Policy Impact Workshop - Save the Date»

Tue 8 February - Wed 9 February, ANU Campus

Early career academics are often being asked to engage with policy makers and demonstrate the influence of their research in the "real world". Join this workshop to learn about the necessary skills and tools that are needed to engage with and influence decision-makers to achieve real world impacts from your research.

NECTAR is organising this workshop in collaboration with Dr Chris Cvitanovic from the Centre for the Public Awareness of Science.
